

Everything on Planet Suds is divided.
The Bars and the Bottles don't speak to each other very much.

There are separate TV shows;
Some for Bar Soap only.
Some for Bottled Soap only.
They have even passed a law to divide the sun!

This makes Soapy very sad.
Soapy remembers when his great grandmother,
the famous
Empress
Latherina,
told him
stories
about a time
when bar soap
and bottled
soaps would work together and sometimes even be friends.

Deep down, after all, they are
ALL STILL SOAP!
